

1. while we struggled a lot on the first one
2. the second one was very easy because we only needed to copy the operations for example division
3. the last two exercises were mechanical: once you understand the pattern you just need to apply it